Course Description

We are going to have the time to have a robust discussion with practical intervention tools to feel more competent and focused when addressing the complex needs of the Integrated Behavioral Health population. When you review the Learning Objectives in this section of trainings, you will see a strong focus on diagnostic criteria, which lends itself to vignettes and current case challenges you are experiencing your clinical work. Be sure and bring them with you! We will incorporate discussion, lecture, video, and interactions.

Learning Objectives:

- Recognize Trauma-based attachment interruption as a foundation to substance use and emotional dysregulation.
- Connect neurological responses to early attachment disruption, to inability to self-soothe or receive soothing, and SUD
- Review SAMSHA's 12 Step process for co-occurring disorders assessment
- Aligning Integrated Assessment & Treatment Planning Tools with Transformational Care Planning
- Cross-walk current diagnostic criteria for substance-related disorders (e.g., ASAM & DSM-5 and ICD-10), and major mental health diagnostic categories that present in addiction treatment programs
- Determine high risk indicators for suicide and violence in persons with co-occurring disorders.
- Distinguish signs and symptoms of and appropriate responses to high-risk medical complications including withdrawal, medication toxicity, and overdose.
- Identify Stage of Change impact on the interactions between co-existing mental health, substance use, and other health care issues on treatment planning and case conceptualization.
