

Valuing Different Perspectives

Course Description:

This training is a highly interactive online course that meets for two 3-hour sessions. In this course participants explore the various perspectives on a variety of important topics that impact how we interact and the results we get in our personal, work and community relationships. Through co-facilitator illustrations, facilitated discussions and activities participants will experience the value of the different perspective within the group and identify new skills to enhance relationship for their wellbeing. In this workshop we ask that participants who attend have their cameras on and be ready to share with others both in large groups and small groups. What supports this course to be effective is that we all share and learn from others.

Learning Objectives:

1. List at least 3 ways to practice valuing perspectives at work.
2. Name at least 3 ways to maintain healthy personal relationships while holding a differing perspective.
3. Identify at least 3 actions that participants can take to support the creation of healthy connections with community members while holding differing perspectives.
